ABOUT PRIVACY CAMP (PC)

Photos @Privacy Camp 2020

Privacy Camp is the annual conference bringing together over 300 digital rights advocates, activists as well as academics and policy-makers from all around Europe and beyond to discuss the most pressing issues facing human rights online. Started in 2012 as a small gathering of digital rights activists and academia, the event takes place every year in Brussels (Belgium)/online.

PARTICIPANTS & SPEAKERS' FEEDBACK

- "Privacy Camp is the place to be for getting all the insights on digital rights challenges! I love the exchange of ideas with a unique group of individuals representing civil society, academia, EU bodies, and the industry."
- Eleftherios Chelioudakis, Homo Digitalis
- "I look forward to attending Privacy Camp every year, because it allows me to gather with colleagues from all over Europe."
- Paola Verhaert, The Engine Room
- "It's always great to catch up with like-minded privacy activists, but this event really buzzes with energy and enthusiasm."
- Jennifer Baker, Journalist & BrusselsGeek
